

Collection of Seminal Fluid for bacterial culture (Semen Analysis)

In the absence of a specific request from your doctor, it is recommended not to carry out the examination in the course of antibiotic therapy. Wait at least 15 days after the last intake of antibiotic.

The Stamey test cannot be run at the same time, wait at least five days between the two tests.

To avoid contamination by the normal bacterial flora of the urethral meatus, the collection must be preceded by a thorough cleansing of the external urethral meatus.

- Use sterile wide mouthed containers.
- After thorough cleaning the periurethral area and hands, collect directly into the container.
- Send the sample within 2 hours of collection
